RECTOR FINED FOR ASSAULT.

A singular case, which aroused much local interest, came before the Brierley Hill (Staffordshire) magistrates, when the Rev. Hugh Arundel Hill, Rector of Wordsley, was summoned for assaulting a boy named Kelly, a member of his Sunday-school.

According to the prosecution the boy, with companions, was playing in the rectory fields, which the inhabitants are permitted to use as a recreation ground, on Sunday. The rector, who alleged the boys were behaving indecently, 'called them to him. He attemped to ||kick one of them, and they ran off. The rector chased Kelly. who, however, dodged him, causing defendant to fall into a fence. Subsequently he caught the boy and kicked him on the elbow, badly cutting it, He punched him severely about the face, blackening the boy's eyes and making his nose bleed. After the assault he said to the other boys, "Look at him. Are you proud of him?" Defendant admitted taking the law into his own hands, and that he called the boys AT little beasta."

Sir H. Foley Grey said the assault was unjustifiable, and defendant would have to day 40s and costs. - ..

THE CHINA MAIL.

Bir J. Spott and Lady Backvillo. Strange Allegations.

On June 24, before Sir Samuel Evanu (President) and a special jury, the hearing was commenced of an action concerning the testamentary dispositions of Sir John Murray Scots, Bart. (who died on January 17, 1012), to whom Lady Wallace, widow of Sir Richard Wallace, who ando the famous collection which bears his name, bequeathed her large fortune. Sir John made a will leaving a considerthe portion of his property to Lady Sackville, wife of Lord Sackville, of Knole, Sevenoalm.

The plaintiff, Mr. Frederick William Capron (Sir John's solicitor), claimed as one of the executors of the will with five odicils, and asked probate of them. The defendants were General Douglas Mozander Scott, the heir-at-law, Saward Inade Scott, Donald Malcolm Scott, Naitor Montagu Scott, Aticia Florence Scott, and Mary Catherine Teesdale Sectt, prothers and sisters of Sir John and the next of kin.

Following a motion in the Probate Court on April 30 last year, a scaled on selope was opened by Mr. Justice Bargravo Deane, and found to contain a duly executed codicil. The envelope had been enclosed in a lotter to Lady Sackville from Sir John, directing that the envelope. was to be oponed only after his death, · should there be any disposition shown to dispute my will."

Mr. Barnard K.C., and Mr. Willcock were counsel for the plaintiff; Sir Edward Carson, K.C., Mr. Norman Craig, K.C., and Mr. Bayford for Lord and Lady Sackvillo. (parties cited); Mr. F. E. Smith, K.C., Mr. Hommerde, K.C., the Hon. Victor Russell, and Mr. Bouser for Mr. D. M. Scott, the principal defendant. Mr. F. E. Smith, K.C., for Mr, D. M.

Scott, said his client complained of the testamentary, dispositions of Sir John Murray Scott. The story ranged over a treat number of years, and if was necesary that he should inform the jury of the circumstances of the Scott family. in general, the nature of the case which was presented on behalf of Mr. Scott was. that he alleged that Lord and Lady Sackville spent more than ten years in obtaining a complete ascendancy and domination over Sir John Murray Scott, and that during this period of that acquaintance the nature of the influence which they obtained over him was such that, being wholly unrelated to him, or even having any claim of consanguinity, direct or indirect, they induced him to finance them for a large period of years for encemous sums during his lifetime. They induced him, it was alleged, by means of influence and other pressure, out of an estate of very nearly a million pounds, to leave far the greater part of this to them, to the great prejudice of the rela-

LADY SACEVILLE.

He would be able to show, counse. went on, that there had been a prodigious difference in the temperament of Sir John Murray Scott since Lady Sackville's influence was exerted over him. Over a period of years, and particularly at very critical moments in the history of this lady's relationship to Sir John, it was seen that she deliberately set herself to wean him from the members of his family by snying of his relatives that they had done things which they had not done, by misrepresenting and by depreciating, with the object of prejudicing him against those relatives towards whom he had had a tender dection before she intruded into his domestic life. The part played by Lord Sackville, as they would gather from the evidence, was of a different kind from that played by Lady Sackville. Her ascendancy was acquired by many years Cherub of personal contact, by the exercise of Clie many arts, which would be described to them in the course of the case. With regard to the wealth of Sir John Scott and the general position of his affairs at his death, counsel said that in this case the plaintiff claimed probate of a will made on October 26, 1900, and of five codicile to that will. The first of those codicils bore the date November 23, Moorhen 1908; the second November 28, 1908; the third April 25, 1910; the fourth April 25; 1910; and the fifth July 28, 1910. The pet value of the estate was 21,180,000.

EDINBURGH, June 24. NORTHERN CRICK T DERBY.

The North Inch has been the scone of many struggles ; but an enthusiast declargs that the mitch between Perth and Fo far in the County Championship excited more Clans. Porthabire appeared to b. helding tured 7 of their opponents wickets for a came in and exhibited fust that buyers at $356 and Chinas are wanted at | decree of confidence to, save the aituntion, and heing rictory to his side. Gilroy and Jack Sharp also gave good halting displays, the plac dity and coolness being altogether admirable. / The best batting of the day was that of Joe Ander almide it. but it was graceful and ori-pflis strokes were perfectly timed and accurately placed. Oerman of the other Putth batemen who got moderate sorres we'e somewhat fortunate, and there was a general improviou that the home batting ran to extreme, it was either too stilted or too rash. Forfarshire were resolute without being abendoned, and cautious without being passive." With a late start, it was thought that a draw was inevitable in the other county solling quetation of $374. A sharp re- mitch, But Arthur Breadbest made great covery has since taken piace the market pay with the Stirling wickets 6 for 13 plosing with buyers at $321. Luzons have rule, including the hat trick. Aberdeen been neglected and have decimed to 835 pa sed their rivals total with 4 wickets down and lots of time to spare. For Stirling, Gooder had 5 for 38, and Lord

Monerieff 2 for 29. The game, at Raeburn Place between Grange and Peobl & U unty, was remarkthle for two centurion and a defeat of the do that had closed their innings. It was really the veteran L. N. alfour Melville's score that brought victory to his side.

Evidence would be given of the value of the residue, which was, generally speaking, all that the Scott family were left under the will. It was estimated that it was extremely improbable that there would be any residue as all; cortainly 'the amount' would be negligible when divided amongst the number of persons concerned, and it was more than probable that there would be no residue at all divisible among the members of the Scott family.

THE BEQUESTS TO A PERRESS. The will of October 26, 1900, counsel continued; left to Lady Sackville, frue of all duty, a pocket-book that belonged to Murio Antoinette, a diamond necklace that belonged to Queen Katharino Parr, and all the pictures, furniture, plata, and works of art, except those in his house at 5, Connaught-place. Sir John also left her £150,000 in cash, in token, as it was particularly at his mother's death, and to render her independent of the vicissitudes of the Knole estates, the family estuto of the Sackvilles. This bequest included his pictures, furniture, and works of art in his house in the Rug Lafitte Paris, which were worth £350,000, and might be worth more. The duties amounting almost to 40 per cent., taking the English and French together, were to be paid, not by Lady Sackville, but by the members of the Scott family. In his London house, one of the most valuable articles was a bust by Rodin, and a very famous antique chandelier. The bust was worth from £30,000 to £50,000, and the chandelier semothing like £10,000. These were excepted from the reservation that the furniture, etc., at Connaught-place should not go to Ludy Sackville.

The London house and its contents were left in trust for Sir John's sisters-Miss Mary Scott and Miss Alicia Scott-and the residue of the whole estate was left to trustees to be divided into 100 parts. Twenty parts were to go to General Douglas Alexander Scott, a brother; fif teeon pasts to the Rev. Edward Scott, another brother; fifteen parts to Mr. Fonald-Malcolin Scott, a member of the London Stock Exchange; twenty-five parts to Miss Mary Scott. Another brother-Mr. Walter Scott-was given a legacy o £10,000 and an annuity of £2,000, and no share in the residue.

The codicil of November 23, 1908, diverted the Louis XIV. chandelier from Miss Mary and Miss Alicia to Lady Suckville, and also the bust. It gave £5,000 to Mr. Kenneth Campbell.

CLAUSE IN A CODICIL. The second codicil of November 23. 1908, Mr. Smith said, contained a provision very illustrative of the extraordinary prevision of this lady and the degree of influence which she by this time exerted over Sir John. It provides that if any ! of his family, being a beneficiary unde the will, disputed the will or the codicil. his interests woromiven to the orphanage.

LORD HERTFORD'S PORTUNE. Mr. Smith went on to say that Sir John Edward Murray Scott was born on Feb runry 23, 1847. His father was a phy sician-Dr. John Scott-who became friendly with the art collector, Richard Wallace, in 1869. Lord Hertford diod ar extremely wealthy man, leaving an ener mous fortune to Richard Wallaco, includ ing many of the objects of art that had since become inmous. Richard Wallace engaged Sir John Scott as his secretary In 1800, both Sir R. Wallace and D: Scott died within two days of each other Lady Wallace had become friendly dur ing all these years with Sir John Murray Scott. She was French by extraction, an had no relatives or friends in England. Lady Wallace had a house at Brighton for a period in the year 1890, and Mrs. Scott the mother of Sir John, and the two Miss Scotts, Walter Scott, the brother and Sir John, used to visit her at wook ends. When she returned from Brighton she and Sir John lived at Heriford House The Scotts' house was at Chandos street and it was a rule that visits should be paid by one of the family to Hertford House. Lady Wallace left the Wallace Collection to the nation, and all the rest Sir John, excepting £100,00 was left to charities and 2100.000 bestowed in various legacies.

LEFT TO SIE JOHN. What was left to Sir John included the lease of Hortford House, which was ultimately sold to the nation for £35,000, and two freeholds in Paris. One of them was at the Rue Laffitte, in which Sir John resided for many years, and was valued nt £250,000, and there was another freehold in Paris of great historical interest and of enormous value. There were art collections of enormous value at Lisbon and Paris, and also certain Irish estates On February 16, 1897; Lady Wallace died at the age of seventy-nine, having made

DIARRHEA AND ITS DANGERS.

DRING the semit-ropical summer him the bughear of stomach troubles in general and diarrhow in particular. They are the result of a combination of the depressing influence of heat on the nervous system, and the prevalence of disease gurma which thrive in the warmer temperature. It therefore, behaves everyone to pay particular hood to eating light but exceedingly nutritions food which is absolutely pure and free from germs. These qualities are found in Sanatogen. A physician, writing in The Medical Press and Ourcular. atates: "Sanat gen is a perfectly ideal food, as it is endily absorbable and also Sanatogon's value, even in the most ser ous forms of cirricus which accompany. Bullock's Brains- ... Know typhoid fever, has been attested by the most eminent physicians writing in the leading medical journals of the world? ! A physician states in The Medical Times! In the diarrhose of typhoid fever I allow the patient nothing but water and ranatogen for three or four days, and have found the practice answer wonderfully well." One reason for Sauntogeu's value in this condition is pointed out by a doctor, writing in The Central Practitioner, who says : "Sanatogen under oes rapid and complete absorption in the healthy stomach, and a precisely similar result is seen in diseased conditions."

Diarrhoes lowers both the physical and nervous strength, and as canatogen i supreme in restoring the nervous and physical systems to t wir highest vicour. i soon revitalises the sufferer, who feels better than he has been for a very lontime. For these reasons, everyone wh suffers from diarrhees should take Sanatogen, which can be obtained from all Opemists, without any delay.

a will described. Sir John told his sister Alicia and Douglas immediately after her death that she had left money to him for the benefit of the family, and so she did not require so many of the Scotts to be mentioned in the will.

Mr. Smith said the Scott family lived on terms of mutual intimacy, and until Lady Sackville come into their family life there never was a more affectionate and devoted family. Sir John was a man of an affectionate disposition and of a nature easily influenced. It was in March 1807 that he first made the acquaintance of Lady Sackville, who was at that time Mrs. Sackvillo West, Her husband. Lionel Sackville West; had not at that time succeeded to the Sackville peorage,

The occasion of the meeting of Sir John and Lady Sackville was that she was one of a party taken by him over the Wallace Collection. It was a memorable occasion, counsel said, and one that was to prove of deep significance to Sir John and of vital importance to Lady Sackville. In 1808 Sir John bought the house at 5. Connaught-place, and the establishment became the centre of their home-life in

SIR JOHN'H DIARY.

Sir John used to keep a diary, and this Doves,-Pan Kau would be available for the use of the Court. Counsel read extracts from this diary. In regard to the occasion of Lady Sackville's visit to the Wallace Collection there was the entry: "March, 1897.-Lady Sackville visited to see Wallace Col lection. " On May 15 the same year there was a record : ! Mrs. Sackville came three o'clock. I introduced her to mother and the girls took her over the house. On June 22, 1899, there was an entry Heard from V. S. West to come by 3.40 to Knole on Saturday." A diary entry of June 23, 1800, showed that the acquaintanceship between Sir John and Lady Sackville was proceeding, for there was a record of a dinner party to meet the Duke of Cambridge. On June d there was an entry recording the visit o Knole, and the words occurred: "Went round part of the house with V." counsel imagined, mount Lady Sackville Another entry was: "V truly a marvel lous woman, clover and sympathetic, un like most women. She asked me to stay over to meet the Warwicks." On June 26 there was the entry, " Sat under the trees till lunch time with V. Sho told me all her troubles and worries."

Mr. Smith said that, as the case pro- Bream, Bin Yo seeded, he thought the jury would have no difficulty in forming a judgment on the nature of the troubles and worries | Carp, - Li Yu that were discussed by Lady Sackville with Sir John, and in coming to the con clusion that they were not remotely connected with the subject of financial difficulties. Yet soldiers have other and more positive duties than affording u sense of security from murder and They are the pioneers of civilisation, the fore-runners of commerce. This is in large measure due to their road-making activities. The Roman Legionaries cut and banked the the first road to London through Kentish marshes, and up to the days of General Wolfe the main rondways | Police. of Great Britain have have been constructed by soldiers. So is it here. The soldiers make the roads, and even though, when they are landed over to the civil authorities they are improved out of recognition, yet the soldier holds the credit for thinking them out and initiating. RISING IN CANTON.

KWANGTUNG DECLARES ITS INDEPENDENCE.

MOVEMENT AGAINST PRESIDENT YUAN SHIH KAL

Following close upon the news of a rising in the North in opposition to Prosident Yuan Shih Kai, comes the senantional intelligence that the Ewangtung Province has declared its independence.

The news was contained in a telegram which reached the Colony last evening, containing little more than a bare statement of fact, and rumours are current to-day that there has been fighting in Canton. So far, we have been unable to confirm this latter report, but regarding the declaration of independence there seems to be no doubt.

The move, the gravity of which to the South, and probably to the whole China, cannot be over-estimated, was taken by the Society of Independence of Kwangtung, which approached Chan Kwing Ming, the Governor-General, with the proposal that he should assume command of un army to operate against President Yuan Shih Kai, and followed this up by the posting of proclamations through the city offering to all, who espoused the new cause a free pardou.

Whether the request of the Society of Independence was favourably entertained by the Governor-General is not stated but it would appear from the posting of the proclamations that he accepted the offer of the position and all it entalls."

The fact that no telegram from Canton subsequent to the one mentioned has been received by one of the principal Chineso newspapers in "Hongkong rather lends colour to the rumour that all is no quiet in the capital.

THE SQUALL.

Though many Chinese were thrown into the water by the sinking of two lighters near the steamship Senng Bee at East Point during the heavy squall on Thursday evening only one body has so far been recovered by the police. The two lighters, which were crushed a sinst ore another were laden with bags of flour and ; baxes of tear estimated to be worth over $10,000.

When the Seang Bee commenced to drag her anchor and drifted towards the Japan ese bost, blue rockets were sent up to attract the attention of the police laurence but so hard was it blowing that they had been forced to seek shelter. Signals in Morse code sent to the Ta nar were pot noticed. The Scang Bee dragged for about. 120 yards, and pulled up within twenty feet of the Japanese boat.

During the height of the squall the fourth officer, hearing that four children had been left on a sinking lighter which had been deserted by the children's parents, pluckily went on board and rescued.

The blow lasted about half on hour, and led most people to believe that a typhoon was approaching, so strong was the wind.

NOTES, FROM WUCHOW!

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Wronow, July 15.

THE WEATHER. The weather has been insufferably hot for the last few days. A fortnight ago we had it quite cool as the river was so high, which always scens to reduce the temperature somewhat. For this vicason we welcome a high and rushing river in spite of the inconvenience. One of the peculiarities of this place is that often we have periods of three weeks or more of intense heat without any relief whatever. It looks now as if we are in for such a spell. All the residents here fully realise that this is an unusually trying place to live in even for South China.

BOCIAL CHANGES. Our Consul, Mr. O. R. Coales has been appointed to Shanghai and his place is to be taken by Mr. Fletcher from Amoy.

The Commissioner of Customs, Mr. Houston, has been suffering from very indifferent health for some months now, that to-day the troops of the new regime and, acting under medical advices is taking furlough in England! We understand that Monsteur Cramer is appointed to the position. Until his arrival the responsibilities devoive upon Mr. Nelson.

COMMERCE. We are glad to note that Mesers. disturbance, it will not take place yet, as Banker and Co. have put another new motor boat on the river. She will run botween Wuchow and Nanning and is the fastest motor-boat on the river. This go-ahead company deserves to succeed for it is due to their enterprise that the river at any rate until a move is made by the boyond Wuchow has been so wonderfully opened up to trade. The last few years have seen very remarkable developments.

> in this respect. UNBETTLEMENT.

It is very regrettable to have to report that a very marked feeling of in ascurity stall prevails on the West River. Only recently we have been reminded of this The tablet to the momory of Pritish by the piracy of the French steamer "Lebandy." We hear now that the Captain of that boat has received threaten. ing letters, blackmailing the company for $3,000. It is this kind of thing which so sadly interferes with trade on this river. It looks sometimes as if a punitive expodition is required in this district to suppress these disorders.

Unfortimately things seem to be drifting into a condition worse than that before the Revolution.

The alliance mission moes this week for their annual conference. Most of the missionaries have already come in from their country stations. Many important juestions will require esreful and full discussion. THE DISCUSSION

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald challenged this. Mr. Churchill to deny that pressure was but on the Malay States to offer a battleship.

Mr. Churchill denied this.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald then charged the First Lord with introducing threatening programme after suggesting a shipbuilding holiday to Germany.

Mr. Molteno condemned the policy of arming merchant ships, and asked whether the Admiralty had abandoned the policy of the Navy defending commerce. Mr. Churchill replied that the Navy could defend the commerce, but the Baltimore and New York: British barque merchantmen were armed to enable them to protect themselves from foreign armed merchantmen. Mr. A. H. Lee said that to carry out their promises the Government ought to have six more ships ready by 1916. Mr. Churchill asked whether that was an official request from the Opposition. Mr. Lee said the official request by the Opposition was "That the Government should fulfil the pledges given in March." He called attention to the lamentable position of the air fleeta
